The Human Side of the “Economic Star”

David Gregersen
ASSOCIATE PUBLISHER —Salt Lake Business Journal

To our readers and the Utah business community...

As I sat down to write this year’s message, I found myself looking back at my notes from years past. I’ve often used this space to marvel at the “WOW” factor of our economy—and 2025 gives us plenty to celebrate. Once again, Utah is the #1 state in the nation for Economic Outlook, a title we’ve now held for 18 consecutive years. Our unemployment rate sits at a resilient 3.6%, and we continue to lead the country in job expansion and fiscal stability.

But if we only talk about the 1.2% job growth or the 3.4% rise in annual wages, we’re only telling half the story. The other half—the more important half—is the human side of business.

Lately, I’ve been thinking about the term “Social Capital.” The Utah Foundation recently confirmed that our state still holds the highest Social Capital Index score in the country. To a statistician, that’s a data point. To us, it’s the “secret sauce.” It’s the reason Salt Lake City was just named the #1 most neighborly city in America. It’s the 43% of our residents who prioritize volunteering. In Utah, “social capital” isn’t a buzzword; it’s the handshake that seals a deal when things get uncertain, and the willingness of a competitor to offer advice when a colleague is struggling.

We are living in an era of “AI physicians” and automated workflows, but in the Beehive State, relationships remain our most valuable currency.

Whether you’re navigating the shifting tides of global tariffs or the challenges of housing affordability, you aren’t doing it alone. You’re doing it within a community that still believes in looking out for one another.

This 2026 edition of the Salt Lake Business Journal Book of Lists is a map of that community. It remains the state’s premier reference tool not because of the ink and paper, but because of the people and partnerships represented within its pages. We know it stays on your desk all year because, in Utah, who you know is just as important as what you know.

A huge shout-out to our extraordinary staff. They have put in long hours to ensure this publication remains your #1 source for local business intelligence. I am also deeply grateful to our sponsors—Mountain America Credit Union, Maschoff Brennan, and Hughes General Contractors—and all our advertisers. Your partnership is the bridge that makes this work possible.

If your company has not yet participated in our surveys, or if you have an idea for a list we’re missing, please reach out to our research team at Lydia.r@thecityjournals.com.

As we head into the rest of 2026, remember that the numbers look great, but the people are what make them stay that way. Here’s to a year of growth, resilience, and meaningful connection.

I wish you good health and a prosperous 2026!

THE VOICE OF UTAH'S MINING INDUSTRY SINCE 1915

For over 100 years, the Utah Mining Association has proudly represented an industry that is essential to everyone's lifestyle and standard of living. As the beginning of the supply chain for everything we use and everything we do as a society, the mining industry has a great story to tell, and our association strives to tell that story.

Now, more than ever, we advocate for Utah's mine operations and service partners. We are proud of Utah's record of safe, environmentally friendly mining practices, and we recognize the tremendous economic impact the industry has in Utah and beyond.

A photograph of an older man with grey hair and a mustache, wearing a light-colored sweater and blue jeans, sitting on a couch and playing an acoustic guitar. A younger man with dark hair and a beard, wearing a blue polo shirt, stands behind him, smiling and looking at the guitar. The background is a bright, modern interior with a large window and a white vase on a side table.
